

Regina E. Makundi

Corporate Governance

Regina brings the firm a wealth of experience from her past legal practice in various law firms and corporate entities. She advises on corporate and commercial transactions, including compliance. She has represented companies, including directors and officers, as well as investors, on various issues concerning the relationship between shareholders and the managers who are responsible for the day-to-day companies' affairs and operations. Her focus has always been on adding value to client's businesses by assisting them through decision-making